From unity comes community: H&F CommUNITY Day is Sunday 21 July

"We are far more united, and have far more in common, than that which divides us," – Jo Cox (1976-2016).

With fun for all the family, and a strong message that hope is more powerful than hate, H&F CommUNITY Day 2019 is a free festival in Ravenscourt Park, between noon and 6pm on Sunday 21 July – and everyone is invited.

There will be live music, kids' entertainment, dancing, food from around the world, and activities for all parts of our diverse community.

There will be live music, kids' entertainment, dancing, food from around the world, and activities for all parts of our diverse community.

"Our strength lies in our togetherness – hope is more powerful than hate," said Cllr Stephen Cowan, Leader of the London Borough of Hammersmith & Fulham. "This event is our way of celebrating the many different communities that make H&F the best borough in London. Come with friends and family – or on your own – but leave with so much more!"

The programme

It's showtime in Hammersmith & Fulham after the borough won the 'Cultural Impact' prize at the prestigious London Borough of Culture awards last year.

The £200,000 award from the Mayor of London's office is being used to kickstart a new 10-year arts programme to develop the next generation of stars from our talented pool of local young musicians. But that's not all, it will also provide more opportunities for all residents, regardless of their background, to get involved in the arts.

The 'Sounds like Hammersmith & Fulham' programme will build on the borough's already booming arts and culture scene thanks to the success of our Arts Strategy \(pdf 627KB\) and Industrial Strategy \(pdf 2.6MB\) as H&F fast becomes the best place to live, work and play in Europe.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Dennis Paul Williams grew up in the 60's in St. Martinville, Louisiana, where the prevalent Creole culture introduced him to French and West African aesthetics and values.

When Williams was ten years old his father died, and shortly after, Dennis was diagnosed with congenital heart failure. He began his career with a self-portrait on his father's pillowcase.

Williams' works have since evolved into expressions of his deep spirituality; every painting is delicate and thoughtful, drawing on religion, tradition, his life, his family and his vast imagination. He favours the human figure due to its intrinsic spiritual power, and whilst female forms are frequently present in Williams' work, so too are androgynous figures; "our society is so obsessed with gender ... In my work I'm trying to show a balance".

"What I try to create comes from the heart. My art is like a lotus which rises from the dark bottom of a pond, stretching its petals toward the light to greet the calmness of the day. My art is a meditation."

FEEL PART OF A NEW BEGINNING

Shop until you to drop

With so many great shopping centres nearby, it's pretty difficult to resist. County Square has all the big high street fashion brands, like H&M, Warehouse and Oasis, as well as the classics like M&S, Debenhams and Next. Meanwhile, Ashford Designer Outlet with 70 leading brands such as Abercrombie & Fitch, Barbour, Cash Kilston, Jack Wolfskin, Lacoste, Nike, Polo Ralph Lauren and Tommy Hilf, as well as home brands like Derby, Molton Brown and La Crueset, all at affordable prices. Park Mall in the centre of Ashford has you covered, with everything from phone specialists, Mobile Street, to M&M's hosting a collection of locally made designer items. Talk about convenient!

Get active

Want a bit more action? Head to The Stour Centre in Ashford, offering a huge array of sporting activities, state of the art gym facilities, abundant group classes including Zumba, trampolining, pilates and swimming. And after all that why not enjoy a calm and soothing rest in the on site health spa?

Child of nature?

You'll be right in your element: Kent has a wonderfully varied landscape from sandy shorelines and secluded bays to country parks and nature reserves, from sprawling green fields to leafy, ancient woods. And with more than 4200 miles of public rights of way, there's always been a new route to take, and a new vista to appreciate.

That's entertainment

For music lovers, there's no shortage of venues in which to enjoy world-class performers and local talent. Revelation St Mary's brings you international artists, from folk to jazz to classical, in an intimate but epic atmosphere, which brings out the best in everyone, both audiences and performers. Feel like throwing some shapes on the dance floor? Play a trip to Victoria's Cabaret Club where you can drink and dance the night away.

Theatregoers can enjoy all sorts of performances at The Sinden Theatre, from comedy to high drama. Or join Ashford Theatre, formed by a community of people who want to create amazing amateur theatre in the local area. Or if the moving screen is what moves you, OneWorld shows all major releases and blockbusters.

And as a real treat for all you culture vultures, there's the Canterbury Festival every October which attracts 60,000 people to events including music, theatre, dance and exhibitions.
